

Terms of Business.

By clicking on the “Submit” box on the registration and application pages, you are consenting to Swift Employment Services obtaining and using personal data supplied by you, for the purposes of providing you with recruitment services.

By providing clicking submit, Swift Employment Services considers that you are actively seeking contact from us about relevant job opportunities. We will collect information from you to assess your suitability for a position or task and to notify you of relevant opportunities and arrange employment and/or assignments for you. We will process your information as necessary to establish and maintain an employment or staffing/placement relationship with you. As part of our provision of recruitment services to you, we may disclose your personal information to our clients, other Swift Employment Services Limited’s entities and where we are otherwise required to do so by statutory obligation. Under such circumstances, be reassured that Swift Employment Services will appropriately protect any transferred data.

By continuing, you are agreeing that Swift Employment Services Limited can use your details to send you information about our services. This may be by post, email, SMS, MMS, telephone, social media and other means. You can opt out of this at any time.

We will process any data which you provide in accordance with data protection legislation and you can access our Privacy Notice on the bottom of our web pages.